PROJECTS THAT MUSIC 4 MARYLAND WILL FUND:

- Contribute to the conversion of the Booker T. Washington School in Baltimore City to a Performing Arts School. Purchase instruments, supplies, and service projects to clean, paint, and repair the classroom and stage facilities.
- Create a public online database for teachers state-wide to register their music related classroom needs. Allow donations of instruments and supplies to be targeted to specific counties, cities or schools.
- Support future programs to be initiated from Maryland counties.

Music education is important and valuable...

...but music programs grow smaller every day.

With your help, we can help sustain and foster under-funded music programs in our community.

Presenting the Music 4 Maryland Art Guitars Project - a project created by PRS Guitars and Music 4 More to help make a difference for music programs in Maryland schools.

Beginning August 15, 2010, 150 exciting new works of art will be proudly unveiled throughout the state of Maryland: custom designed electric guitars from Kent Island's internationally-renowned luthier Paul Reed Smith. Each guitar will be individually decorated by noted local artists and musicians then placed on display at high-visibility locations throughout the Free State, and all are available for corporate and individual sponsorship.

At the end of the showing, each guitar will be sold at auction, with proceeds from the auction and program sponsorships to be used to purchase instruments and supplies for music programs in our schools and community organizations throughout the state of Maryland.
